Auto Production

Total August production on all makes of cars was about 5 per cent. larger than the same month last year. The first nine months of 1929 exceeded the entire 1928 production. The total production for the year is now expected to reach 6,000,000 as compared with 4,601,000 in 1928.

1. Ford continues to be the chief sustaining factor in Auto Production.
2. Ford is responsible for over 80 per cent. of the increase in the total output of all makes this year.
3. Ford output in August reached a new high monthly record for the Model "A".
4. Ford produced 206,000 cars in August as against 197,000 in July and 101,000 in August last year.
5. Nearest competitor has been compelled to curtail production somewhat, as a result of Ford popularity. Their August production was 110,000, or only 53.4 per cent of the Ford output. In other words the time has now come when practically two Ford Cars are sold to one of the nearest competitor.

There was quite a deal in fresh eggs going on the other day. It transpires that the fresh eggs were laid by hard-boiled chickens—at least the eggs were boiled when gathered from the nests by the genial chicken rancher. We hear the rooster is also a hard-boiled bird—in fact everything and everybody connected with the deal was hard-boiled. The rancher claims he was not in the least fooled by the hard-boiled action of his chickens as the eggs lacked the proper "lustre." Good word that "lustre," when applied to hair, but the principal in the transaction is bald. So what have you?

The trip to the oil fields the other day turned out to be a "duster" in fact the further down the drier it became. Oh, what a life.

Don't you think we should at least get a holiday term or at least the nucleus of one before starting to name the manager. The woods are full of managers—every house has one at least.

The fans at Queenstown and Mile are clamping for another fight. The weather is getting pretty cold for the risk and the chances are slim for any more fights this year.

After the smoker the Armistice celebration—just one thing after another. The only thing we ever got out of the Vulcan well was a bruised leg—well, that's something.

George has a new stove. Now for hot air and lots of it. Oh, yes.

Cousin Sam lost his lady friend. He says another fellow stole her, but we think he used her for kindling. Don't be shocked, she was only a poor wool len model—and there are others.

GREATLY BLESSED

It is true that nature does not always meet with our approval in her transition from season to season. Instead of a gradual blending, she leaps madly back and forth from summer to autumn, from winter to spring, tossing mankind like a puppet, in his bewildered labor. However, nothing could be more graceful than the drifting this year from summer to autumn.

The orderliness of the seasons, so beloved of man, has been maintained. July was an unbroken period of haying; early August saw the beginning of reaping. The end of September has brought harvesting to a peaceful close. Garden crops have been stored away, without any frantic scurrying or without the menace of swooping storm.

Man is quick to avail himself of this gift of sunshine and fair weather and all round about, the countryside is being tidied up for the winter.

To the lover of beauty, nothing could transcend the gradual turning of the trees, this year. For weeks our eyes have dwelt upon the glory of the changing shades, and a drive along any wooded road provides a gorgeous spectacle, unequalled for many years.

This is a season of real thanksgiving.

USE DISCRETION

It has been said that Hungarian partridges and Chinese ringnecks are multiplying very rapidly and that promiscuous shooting does not tend to eliminate these wonderful prairie birds. One farmer who has shown great interest in the propagation of these birds tells us that the reason why these birds are more plentiful this year is because of the fact that signs have been put up by various farmers prohibiting shooting on their premises. He says if these birds had been protected for another season, an open season would not deplete the bird population as it is doing today.

During the past week we have heard many complaints from farmers hereabouts, about bird men hunting over their pasture grounds with shot and shell and dogs. One would think that sportsmen would exercise precautions under such circumstances. One stockman out west states that his beef cattle have lost weight the past fortnight owing to hunters shooting in close proximity to their cattle who were feeding contentedly. Since that time they have been restless and nervous, and upon the approach of a human they stampede and refuse to graze at ease. It is such actions that cause so many farmers to put up signs prohibiting shooting on their premises and for this they cannot be blamed.

A GREAT WAR BOOK

The present sensation in the book world is "All Quiet on the Western Front," and no one who has read it seems to dispute its right to a unique literary position.

The book is not squeamish. In the description and comments of war, the author sees fit to use quite matter of fact, all the choice unmentionable words of the language. They fit the subject.

When Herr Remarque, the author returned to Germany after the war, he was horrified at the depression and disintegration within his country. He had entered the army, a mere boy. He was discharged a grown man. His four years experience had seared him and there was no relief until he conceived the idea of writing his experience simply and clearly on paper. The book was finished in six weeks, and in its attempt at a plain unvarnished record of the universal experiences of fighting men, it evidently has succeeded far beyond anything the author ever dreamed. It is powerful anti-war propaganda. Herr Remarque is now 32 years of age.

ANOTHER DREAM FULFILLED

Hon. C. A. Dunning, minister of railways, announces that the government will erect a 2,000,000-bushel grain elevator at Churchill instead of 1,000,000 house as originally planned and that the structure will be completed and ready for use by the fall of 1931. Development of the railway and the Port of Churchill, Mr. Dunning says is one year ahead of schedule. The rails are laid to the Bay and traffic is being operated over the line and the first shipment of wheat has already been carried out by the Hudson's Bay Company. The road is not to be opened for the public, however, until next spring and no excursion parties are to be encouraged because of the lack of public accommodation at the town of Churchill.

Next spring the Hudson Bay Railway will be a going concern. Thus is a 50-year dream fulfilled. Part of the grain crop of 1931 will reach Europe by way of Churchill. But the success or failure of the Hudson Bay Railway will not be determined alone by the volume of wheat shipped. Eventually there will be large shipments of cattle. Undoubtedly there will be heavy imports of goods from Europe. The development of northern Manitoba will furnish a great deal of local traffic. There is every indication that the Hudson Bay route will prove to be a profitable one.—Country Guide.

THE GOLDEN RULE

Do as you would be done by, is as essential in business as in social life. It is only by paying your own bills promptly, that you may hope to maintain the even flow of credit which runs through the business body. Pay others promptly, so that others may be able to pay you.

The basic principle of a credit transaction is faith in fellow man's honesty. The necessity of meeting a just debt is essential, morally and materially. "Pay your debts and give every man his own" was the fundamental belief of our forefathers. This was the basis of business solidarity.

In so far as citizens practice this inherited standard, they maintain their business integrity, and retain the confidence of the merchants who through courtesy, extend their credit.

RAILWAY HELPLESS

That the railways cannot do anything about the grain blockade, is the statement of E. W. Beatty. The sooner the grain goes out, the better for the railroads, but the whole congestion matter is the result of controversy between the Pool and Liverpool, in the opinion of Mr. Beatty. He adds that there is no question that all banking interests in the country are back of the Wheat Pool. In the mean time the railway earnings are going down, and will continue to do so until the grain moves. The buying power in many industries will also be temporarily affected. But all elements are hoping to see the farmer get the best possible price for his wheat.

THE CANADIAN FLAG

What must the people of other countries think of Canada having no flag of her own for use on land? What must the millions of United States tourists who come to Canada every year and who have always made so much of their own flag—think of us and our lack of a distinctive Canadian emblem?—Medicine Hat News.

A sergeant in the American marines now in service in China has just fallen heir to a baronetcy created in England just 300 years ago. He is now Sir Fulke Agnew, but was born in Washington in 1900—the son of Major C.H. Agnew, who was with the British Embassy at that time. He served in the British army during the World War and afterwards in Mesopotamia and in the Arab revolt. Later he was in the American army and when the marines were designated for China he got into that service.

An old timer says that we are far removed from the olden days when a man light-heartedly slipped out for a few hours shooting or fishing, taking time only to grab his gun or rod. Nowadays he has to be equipped with credentials like a traveller in a war zone. He must have his car license, his driver's licence, his shooting license and his fishing license before he dare leave his portals. Next year he expects to have to buy a license to prove that he has a right to be at all.

SIMPLIFY WORK

Western Canada's wheat crop is so high in protein content, though lower than last year's in flour returns, that the grading problem about which so much was heard a year ago, is causing very little concern this year.

This information was given on Friday morning by W. H. Fairfield of Lethbridge, who has just returned from Winnipeg, where he attended the annual meeting of the Grain Standards Board.

"We really had very little to do this year," said Mr. Fairfield, "because there has been so very little wheat coming into the terminals grading below No. 3. There has been hardly enough outside contract grades."

A grade was set for No. 1 hard of which a couple of thousand cars have been received this year as against practically none for the past two or three years.

Mr. Fairfield states that the terminal elevators are filling up rapidly, and it will be necessary for Canada to hold a lot of wheat in store, but he is quite satisfied the world will need it and buy it later.

The Hudson Bay railway to Churchill is nearing completion. The formal opening of this road will take place in the early summer of 1930.

New branch lines must be constructed in the Peace River before a coast outlet will be warranted said E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R., and in this he is no doubt right.

Jack Sharkey knocked out Tommy Loughran in three rounds at New York, Sept. 26th. A straight right on the jaw did the trick and placed Sharkey on way to heavyweight title. The receipts at fight were estimated at $300,000.

The Earl of Tredegar who visited the Peace River country with the Chamber of Commerce declares that country unfit for settlement by Anglo Saxons. We agree with him to this extent, providing the Anglo Saxon is of the same type as the Earl.

BIG WHEAT PLANS

British Labor Party Hopeful of Thom as' Visit Here

Railwaymen and others of Britain who know the Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas are hopeful of good results from his visit to Canada. Thomas is usually most reticent, when doing big things and the liveliest of expectations are entertained in political circles regarding his Canadian trip.

There is ground for the belief that one of the main purposes of his tour was to investigate a plan relating to British coal and Canadian wheat. It is stated that this plan involves colossal purchases of Canadian wheat and the erection of grain elevators in this country. The building of a fleet of ships and reciprocal action on the part of Canada to purchase British coal.

Therefore, according to Labor papers, it is possible for "the ship" to be freighted with good news for the miners, steel workers, shipbuilding and others classes of workers in the old country.

Don't buy any car until you have driven Chevrolet

IT'S all very well to listen to So-and-so's opinion of car values, but after all, the person whose opinion counts most is YOURSELF. It's all very well to sit back and wonder how Chevrolet can produce a really high-class Six . . . put a high-compression, valve-in-head engine in it . . . employ Fisher Body genius to create and build a series of magnificent bodies for it . . . equip it in the most detailed and up-to-the-minute fashion . . . and sell it at the price of a four.

The unmatched resources of General Motors, backing up Chevrolet's own tremendous facilities, explain all that, of course. But how much more satisfying to test it all out for yourself . . . behind the wheel of the new Chevrolet Six. That is why we urge you . . . no matter how many nice things you have heard or read about Chevrolet . . . to DRIVE CHEVROLET before you buy any car.

If you don't sell yourself a Chevrolet, nobody else is going to do it. Please don't feel you are obligating yourself in any way. It's a pleasure for us to place a Chevrolet Six at your disposal.

DAFOE'S VIEWPOINT

Winnipeg Editor Gives His Views on This Country's Resources

The partnership of the people of Canada in the resources and equipment of the country was, declared Mr. Dafoe, a theme worthy of being considered in all its aspects by the National Chamber of Commerce. Canada, like most countries, was created by the operation of political forces, and the peculiarly difficult problems of the Canadian statesmen ever since had been to create in this vast and diverse country that sense of economic inter-dependence which the Chamber of Commerce termed partnership. The need for solution would increase with time, he believed, for in the next century the justification for political consideration over-riding economic well-being would lessen.

"It is essential, that people in every section of Canada should come to feel that not only is it good for them to be part of Canada, but that no other future is conceivable. This is a task that will call for whatever we have in sagacity and statesmanship; and no agency outside the political field could do better work in serving this ideal than a Dominion-wide organization like the Chamber of Commerce.

All had an interest in the Dominion's natural resources, the speaker pointed out, as their means of livelihood were directly affected by the degree and manner in which the resources were developed. The curve of national growth and the curve of utilization of natural resources ran side by side.

The farmer's position was placed tersely before the audience by Mr. Dafoe, who declared that if the problem of agricultural poverty were solved the other economic problems would solve themselves.

The primary factor in Canada's progress during the past forty years had been the contribution to grain production made by the handful of farmers on the western prairies, the speaker declared. This golden stream was still the great fruiting agency in Canada's commercial and industrial life. The whole Canadian people were partners with the western farmer; and it not infrequently happened, that the partners who took no risk took most of the benefit. The grain harvest started a great chain of employment which affected every business in the country, but it might happen that it left no profit in the pocket of the grower.

Tracing the contribution of the natural resources to national growth the Winnipeg editor declared it required great powers of imagination to apprehend, even dimly, the possibilities of Canada's mineral future. He quoted Sir Thomas Holland, president of the British association, for the advancement of science, who had foretold predominance in the future, both in industry and, if need arose in war, for the areas endowed with mineral resources Western Europe and North America. It is becoming ever more probable that Canada held the keys to the great mineral treasure-house of North America. If the resources of the Dominion in base metals and gold measured up to the indications already apparent, Canada should have the world at its feet, he said.

The "Big Four" in natural resources contributing to the national growth of Canada, were agriculture, forests, mines and water power, said the speaker. "When we consider the immensity of our undeveloped resources and the untouched water power available we catch some vision of the possibilities," he stated.

Mr. Dafoe foresaw a fifth great natural resource; the geographical position of the Dominion, which showed that every advantage of location, and availability which Great Britain held toward the world was held as well and in greater measure by Canada.

The development of world aviation would convey this knowledge to the popular mind, he believed, and he saw the day when all air-routes serving the northern hemisphere would cross Canada. "We are bound in the future to be on the main stream of traffic both by air and land, giving Canada a commanding position in world trade and ultimately in financial power."

Mr. Dafoe stressed the need for greater protection of the public right in natural resources.

With the ever-growing demands he believed the governments of the provinces must look more and more to the natural resources for the enlargement of the revenues to meet these demands.

Mayland oil well in the south end of the field has come in with a production that exceeds Royalite and Home famous oil wells. This is of tremendous significance to this end of the field and puts Hartell fairly and squarely on the oil map.

Sales of combines have been heavy and before the end of the selling season last year's figures are expected to be surpassed. Most of this business is coming from Southern Alberta.

Infantile paralysis is said to be epidemic in eastern Canadian provinces. We hope it will not spread to the west. Meanwhile, western people should guard against it. Promptness in discovery of the disease so that effective isolation measures may be taken is probably the best safeguard against epidemic conditions.

Warning TO Motor Car Drivers

CARRY Your Licenses

The Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act, 1924, Amendment Act, 1929, requires that every person operating a motor vehicle shall secure an operator's or chauffeur's license and shall at all times while driving carry same. A penalty is provided for failure to produce such licenses when demanded by an officer.

It is necessary, owing to the number of motorists who persist in driving without licenses, that the police be instructed to require the production of these licenses from time to time.

This law has been passed in the interests of safe driving, and the production of a license is the only proof of ownership of one.

Carry your license at all times and avoid inconvenience and prosecution.

Application cards may be obtained from any Alberta Police Officer, Clerks of the Court, dealers in motor vehicles, or from the postmaster in any town or village, and when completed should be forwarded to the Motor Vehicle Branch Office at either Calgary, Lethbridge or Medicine Hat, or to the Office of the Deputy Provincial Secretary at Edmonton.

CAME IN WITH ROAR

Home Well No. 1 Came Back With Big Production After Freezing

With a roar Home No. 1 came back on Friday morning and many conflicting reports were current. During the afternoon The Times' reporter and Ray Lane photographer, motored out but found that the tremendous flow had eased off and photographs could not be taken. It was stated that owing to the accumulation of wet gas in the hole in Home 1 owing to freezing an immense flow of very heavy saturated gas suddenly belched forth from the well. An estimate was given that the production was around the 2000 barrel mark that day. From two pipes the wet gas shot up to a height of nearly 50 feet, but it subsided during the day and it was expected that normal flow would be resumed in a day or so. Normally the flow at this well produces from 700 to 900 barrels per day.

It's rather precarious work cleaning out such holes as Home No. 1 and workmen so engaged run great personal risk for one cannot tell when a burst will take place and wrangle things out of shape and endanger lives. A diamond drill is being used to clean out or enlarge the hole in No. 1 well and when this is completed it is said that "freezing" will not occur again.

ALBERTA IS O.K.

So Says a Southern Alberta Farmer Who is Here to Stay

An Albertan who left recently for the Coast with the idea of settling there came back more satisfied than ever with Alberta. Here is what he says:

"While away we saw something about how the other half farmed. And if we ever had any hankering to buy a nice little fruit farm in a valley in B.C. or Washington, it was knocked out of us. We may have dry years here in Southern Alberta but the things the coddling moth can do to an apple orchard in a week make us stronger than ever for wheat and livestock and dairy farming in Southern Alberta.

"We saw a farm east of Seattle we wouldn't mind owning. It was at Carnation and was owned by the Carnation Milk company. Hundreds of Holsteins, hundreds of acres of pasture and hay meadows and corn ready for the silo. But most of the farms have too much land straight up and down to suit the writer. Sometimes we worry about the incomes of our Southern Alberta farms being too small, but they're a whole lot larger than the incomes of average Washington dairyman or fruit grower.

"Probably we haven't so many trees and such nice scenery nor the paved highways of our coast neighbors, but we have more room to breathe, we have a wonderful sun overhead and our farming is more of business here than across the mountains.

TAXED TO DEATH

This Explains Why a Certain Man Could Not Pay Honest Debts

A certain man in Chicago received from a certain other man in Illinois one of those cruel epistles known in plain English, as a dun. Apparently he was broke, badly broke at that, for this is the reply he made:

"For the following reasons I am unable to send you the check you have asked for:

"I have been held up, held down, sand-bagged, walked on, flattened out and squeezed, first by the government for federal war tax and excess profit tax, merchant's license, merchant's bond, auto tax, Liberty loan bonds, thrift stamps, capital stock tax, and every society and organization that the mind of man can invent, to extract what I may or may not possess; from the society of St. John the Baptist, to G. A. R., the Women's Relief, the Navy League, the Red Cross, the Double Cross, the Children's Home, the Dorcas Society, the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., the Boy Scouts, the Jewish Relief and every hospital and church in town.

The government has so governed my business that I do not know who owns it. I am inspected, suspected, examined, re-examined, informed, misinformed, required and commanded, so I do not know who I am, where I am, or why I am. All I know is that I am supposed to have an inexhaustible supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race; and because I will not sell all I have and go out and beg, borrow or steal money to give away, I am talked about, lied to, talked to, lied about, held up, robbed and nearly ruined. The only reason I am clinging to life is the insane desire to see what in hell is coming next."

Oil drillers in the Valley encounter great difficulties of which the general public know little about, but it is the opinion of the majority that this field will develop into one of the great fields of the world. With some wells trouble commences with the spudding in of the well. The average cost of drilling well in the field is $150,000, is the statement made by Mr. McLeod, field superintendent of Imperial Oil. With about 86 wells being drilled it will thus be seen that it takes a lot of production to pay for the expense of drilling.

COMPULSORY POOL

Certain statements made by Aaron Sapiro at Melville, Sask., recently were declared, by Dr. H. W. Wood to be "one hundred per cent lies."

"The utter insincerity of Mr. Sapiro is as apparent as the colossal impracticability of his compulsory pool idea," Dr. Wood said.

"I would like to reply to Mr. Sapiro in the strongest language possible," Dr. Wood said, "but I also want to retain my dignity. If at any time since the inception of the wheat pool in Alberta I had thought Mr. Sapiro could contribute one iota to its successful management, I would not have hesitated to call on him. But to the contrary, I have been sincerely of the opinion that Mr. Sapiro's active connection with the management of our pool would have spelled its ruin."

"Mr. Sapiro is probably the greatest propaganda genius on the co-operative movement on the North American continent, but in my early associations with Mr. Sapiro I realized his lack of true business ability. This has been demonstrated by other co-operative movements in which he had a part in the management."

"If Mr. Sapiro had been allowed to take an active part in the management of our wheat pools I believe we would today be out of business."

Referring to the charge made by Mr. Sapiro that he had been opposed to the pool movement at the start, Dr. Wood said:

"There is not a word of truth in the statement. It is one hundred per cent lies."

Dr. Wood said he was a member of a Canadian Council of Agriculture committee which discussed pool organization long before Mr. Sapiro ever came to Canada.

"When I first met Mr. Sapiro at Spokane in 1919 we hardly discussed the question," Dr. Wood said. "At that time he looked to me like a very young, immature man who hardly knew what he was talking about, and I gave him very little consideration.

"A few years later I realized Mr. Sapiro was the greatest disciple of co-operative marketing in America and found when he came to Canada that he had matured very considerably since our first meeting."

"We were then discussing the question of a pool formation in the board of the U. F. A. when Mr. Woods of the Calgary Herald came over and suggested that his paper would bear the expense of bringing Mr. Sapiro to Canada. The board at that time thought it better that we should complete our preliminary work and then bring Mr. Sapiro ourselves. However, Mr. Woods did bring Mr. Sapiro here. At that time I had already conceived the idea of a provincial pool and was working along these lines, and I was not 'kicked into the fatherhood of the pool' by Mr. Sapiro, as he suggests."

"Mr. Sapiro showed his total lack of appreciation of first principles when he attacks me on the statement I made before the Chamber of Commerce that 'inauguration of a universal pooling system of selling would enable the farmers to get the actual value of wheat.'"

"I still stand by that statement. It is not a reversal of my former attitude and cannot in any way be interpreted to mean that I can see any possible good in a compulsory system."

Asked if he thought Mr. Sapiro's advocacy of a compulsory pool in Saskatchewan had any chance of success, Dr. Wood said "No. Speeches like Mr. Sapiro made at Melville and on other occasions may appeal to a few farmers," Dr. Wood said, "but the farmers of these western provinces are not fools and are not easily led by visionary ideas."

"I am not afraid to allow the farmers of Alberta to judge me on my record on the pool question, and their opinion means more to me than that of Mr. Sapiro."

WHEAT RECORDS BROKE

All records for September grain marketings on the C.P.R. Lethbridge division, according to the Herald, have gone by the boards and there is the balance of the month to go. Over 18,000,000 bushels of grain, mostly wheat have been marketed on the division in the new crop year since August 1st. On that date The Herald estimated an average wheat crop of 18 bushels per acre. It now promises to be closer to 25 bushels.

It is practically certain that this year's wheat crop on this division will reach 35,000,000 or better. The total crop for the province has been variously estimated at seventy and seventy-five million bushels, so it may be seen that that part of Southern Alberta represented by the Lethbridge division of which we are part will ship practically half the wheat produced in Alberta this year.

As a general rule the peak of wheat shipments from this division is not reached until October 10th but this year owing to an early harvest and the use of combines and other power harvesting machinery the peak has been reached two weeks earlier. The total grain marketed to date is 18,000,000 bushels, last year 8,000,000. There are at present in this division 360 elevators with a capacity of 14,000,000 bushels. About thirty new elevators were built this year.

It was thought in July and early August that the intense heat, and lack of rainfall would result in a small crop. Here and there bumper yields are reported. Livestock conditions in Southern Alberta are excellent with plenty of winter feed in sight. The shipping season is just commencing and will be at its height next month.

Dairying has had a prosperous year. Potato crops are not good and as a result prices are high. The hay crop is excellent and it is expected there will be a complete sell-out of this crop this season. So, on the whole, Southern Alberta in view of its good crops, and the higher prices prevailing for almost everything the farmer and rancher has to sell, promises to have more money to spend during the next twelve months than last year, despite the fact that all wheat-growing records were smashed with a crop of 17,000,000 bushels in 1928.

supper, entertainment and dance to take place on November 8th not on October 25th, as has been mentioned as a probable date. A donation to the Red Cross was unanimously voted. Suggestions were made and discussed regarding some improvements in conducting and arranging school activities. Mrs. Mensinger gave a block for sugar-caking. Mrs. Clifford Love read a splendid paper on the "Main Industries of Alberta." The roll call was answered by "What I would have liked to have been called." At the close of the meeting the hostess served a dainty lunch.

GHOST RIVER PROJECT

A general outline of the power situation in Alberta was given by Mr. Baxter, an official of the Calgary Power Company. The Ghost River dam is a fine piece of engineering which will back the water up a distance of about ten miles and this will form a nice lake near the highway between Calgary and Banff.

The river has a drop of 475 feet in a distance of 22 1/2 miles and the water can be used to develop power three times in that distance. Mr. Baxter said that the Company can produce all the power required in the Province of Alberta, for many years to come. In winter there is not enough water in the Bow River to run the plant and a reserve supply has been arranged to the amount of 16,000,000 k.w.

The map of the Calgary Power Company is interesting to look at, showing as it does the transmission line from the Ghost River plant which extends through the province, namely south to Warner, Milk River and Magrath, as well as to Aldersyde and Bassano and Gleichen; north of Calgary the line has been constructed as far as Ponoka, and will be completed to Millet in about ten days. Another line is being built from Camrose to Wainwright, which will also be completed in about ten days. Projected lines are from Hardisty to Provost and from Macleod to Cardston, and it is expected these will be completed before freeze-up.

It is proposed to build a 132,000 volt line from Ghost River to Wetaskiwin with a possibility of the line being extended on to Edmonton.

Power can be developed by both hydro and steam, and there is a place for both in the province. It is also possible to supply power by natural gas, as is now being done in Wainwright, but this cannot be done as economically as by the hydro system. The three methods of producing power will be used by the Company in Alberta.

The Company is adopting the policy of supplying water to the smaller towns and hamlets, as this can be done much cheaper than these places can supply water, the Company group four or five towns together and the system is looked after by one man.

In answer to a question, Mr. Baxter said the Company is undertaking to supply power to farmers where they have transmission lines, and it is their policy to take on certain sections each year. They have invested upwards of twelve million dollars in their plant up to the present time, and there is plenty of cheap power available. The approximate cost at the present time for farmers is the same as to towns adjacent, but the Company is trying to work out a method to supply in blocks which would be cheaper.

Replying to another query, Mr. Baxter stated that no plant can compete with the present development as the plant has to be kept up and producing power is very expensive. The outstanding advantage in favor of the hydro system is price and constant supply. The Company can underbid a small plant by at least one-half the rate that it can be produced and sold locally. When a small plant reaches its peak load, it can dispose of no additional current without heavy expense in procuring more machinery, while central development makes no difference whether 300 or 1500 k.w. more are taken.
